After words...

It took 4 years to finish this comic. I started in October of 2018, evident from the Halloween decorations of Chapter One. Chapter Two was done in 2020, and I completed Chapter Three in spring of 2022. I struggle to complete personal projects, so I'm very happy that I eventually got this done. 30 pages ain't bad for something completely unscripted and drawn on the fly!

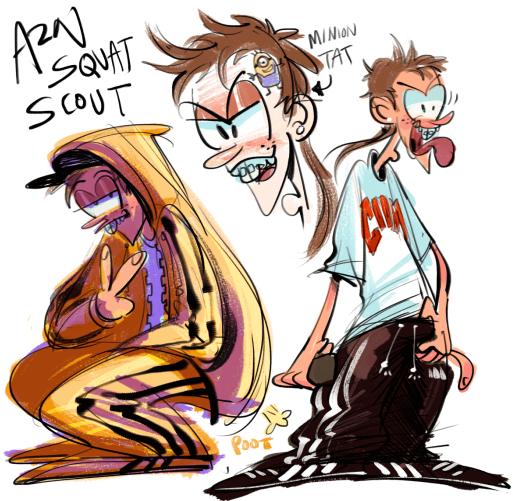

The characters of Ollie and Basile began as a Scout and a Spy from a hat simulation game. Their personalities came from a comic I made in 2018 as a parody of student/teacher porn tropes. I wanted to expand their characters and dynamics beyond "actually the Student is the one taking advantage of the Teacher LOLOL I'M SO SUBVERSIVE!!!!", and gave them names.

The hat simulation fandom is hella annoying about nerdy ass "canon", so I found it much more fun and fulfilling to file off the serial numbers and make original characters. I'm the Gaben of my own house. Still, Ollie and Basile are undeniably Squid and Bob and Scout and Spy behind my pretentious yaoi onion layers. I don't think there are many other doujinshi in the English-speaking sphere for the hat simulation game, so I'm very glad this forbidden ScoutSpy doujin is one of the few published fannomics!

This timeline for Ollie and Basile comes to an end, but they'll have many other timelines with many more adventures! Perhaps I'll finish that "Prozac Dream" tentaspy doujin within the next couple of years..... Pray for me and give me your genkidama power so I can fight this attention deficit!
